From the Pastor: Finally the long awaited day for our children is dawned on May 5th when they will receive Holy Communion for the first time at 12 pm Mass. We are blessed to have 10 children from our School – they are Landon Backues, Madelyn Doerhoff, Eli Eickhoff, Jacob Eickhoff, Romie Groose, Olivia Koetting, Karter Lage, Tanner Lage, Augustus Pringer and Nicholas Vandike and 3 from PSR - they are Tre Brandt, Peyton Groose and Jessi Woodberry. Congratulations and blessings to one all. It is a joyful occasion for our Parish, and the parents & relatives of these children. They have been prepared very well by Mrs. Pam Groose (OLOS) and Susan Hoffmann & Sarah Adrian (PSR) and I thank them for their dedicated services to the Parish.

Now, I would like the children who will receive first Holy Communion to read about the inspiring life story of their patron saint as given below and develop an earnest desire to receive Jesus in the Eucharist as the saint did. At the same time, I would like to request their parents to bring them to Mass on weekend so that they are able to grow closer to Jesus who loves the children most. Please remember that as a Pastor, I will monitor and continue to guide them regularly.

Blessed Imelda Lambertini (1322-1333): There's a prayer that's been made popular among Catholics in which they ask the Lord for the grace to receive Him in Holy Communion that day with the same love with which they received him in their first Communion, with the same love with which they hope to receive him at their last communion, and with which they would want to receive him if that were the only communion of their life. The three parts of this beautiful prayer all came together on May 12, 1333 for an 11 year-old girl in Bologna, Italy called Imelda Lambertini.

When Imelda turned nine, she begged her parents to allow her to go to the school at the Dominican convent in her city. There she endeared herself to everyone by her great piety, goodness and zeal. She fervently desired to be able to receive Jesus in Holy Communion like the sisters and several of the older students, but this was six centuries prior to St. Pius X's lowering the first Communion age to the "age of reason," or about the age of 8. Prior to that 20th century change, many young people received the Lord for the first time during their teenage years, in some places as late as 18.

In place of being able to receive Jesus in Holy Communion, Imelda used to go to the chapel to adore him. She would also make many "spiritual communions" throughout the day and especially when others were receiving him at Mass. She was always asking those who were older and able to receive communion what the experience was like. She used to pepper them with the question, "Tell me, can anyone receive Jesus in his heart and not die?" That question would turn prophetic.

On the vigil of the Ascension, she was praying in Church after Mass. The sisters were preparing to leave the church when some of them were startled to see a strange light, what appeared to be a small sacred host, hovering in the air above her head as she was kneeling before the tabernacle. They ran to get the parish priest. Knowing of her burning desire to receive Holy Communion and taking this theophany as a sign from heaven that she was ready, the priest gave her Jesus in holy communion. To her enormous joy, she devoutly received her long awaited gift of Jesus for the first time - And the last and only time.

Soon after receiving Holy Communion she fell first into what seemed like an ecstasy of love. She had a most serene and angelic smile on her face. While all the sisters were praying with her in thanksgiving, they watched her slowly sink to the floor. They thought that she had simply fainted and felt her arm. But she had died out of love for Christ in the Eucharist, with her face transfixed by a smile that has never worn off. With the Lord within the temple of her body, her soul ascended out of her body with the Lord into heaven. Her body remains incorrupt seven centuries later and lies in a Church in Bologna. In 1826, Pope Leo XII declared her blessed and proclaimed her to be the patroness of first communicants. (By Fr. Roger Landry: First Communion Saints – CatholiCity.com)

Special thanks: I extend my special thanks and appreciation to the choir led by Theresa Bax at last Sunday Mass, on the feast of Divine mercy. The chanting of Divine Mercy Chaplets really tuned up everyone to the celebration of the feast. I am sure that this wonderful devotion desired by Jesus will grow in our parish and bring forth immense blessings upon us all.
